

MacArthur Is Picked as GOP Keynote

Chicago, June 10 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur today was named keynote for the Republican national convention opening here July 7.

The choice of MacArthur was made on a voice vote in a closed meeting of the convention's 64-member arrangements committee. William Mylander, Republican publicity director, told reporters he understood MacArthur had agreed to accept. The committee decided to split the keynote post away from that of temporary chairman.

Walter S. Hallanan of West Virginia, a staunch supporter of Sen. Robert Taft, was chosen temporary chairman of the convention. Mylander said the voice vote for Hallanan was unanimous. The West Virginian is a veteran member of the committee, having served on it since 1928.

Hallanan was put in nomination by Jacob France of Maryland. The nomination was seconded by Cyrus L. Phillip of Wisconsin.

The choice of MacArthur was a victory for supporters of Taft of Ohio, leading candidate for the GOP presidential nomination. Although the designation of MacArthur had been protested by backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Taft's chief rival, Mylander said there were only scattered "no's", when the voice vote was taken.

Seconding speeches for MacArthur included one by Mrs. A. C. Remmel of Arkansas.

Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, House minority leader, who has praised MacArthur as a possible GOP presidential nominee, was named unanimously as permanent chairman of the convention.

Harry Darby, Kansas national committeeman, an Eisenhower backer, told reporters that he has not particular interest in who is chosen for the keynote's job. He said the Eisenhower camp has no candidate for the place, so far as he knows.

Previously J. Russell Sprague, New York national committeeman, said Eisenhower followers would fight MacArthur's appointment.

Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire after meeting with Eisenhower in New York yesterday said he thought Republican generally would object "in principle" to having MacArthur as keynote; that MacArthur is "partisan" and the keynote usually is neutral.

Walter Hallanan, West Virginia backer of Taft, predicted the arrangements group would override these protests in short order.

No one expected MacArthur to serve also as temporary chairman of the convention, a role usually filled by the keynote.

For this reason, there were signs that they might designate National Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson to continue wielding the gavel until the permanent chairman takes over. Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, House minority leader, was cast for this role.

Lions Hear About Boys' State Meet

Tommy Doyle told Lion Club members yesterday about a recent Boys' State meeting which he and three other local youths attended last week in Little Rock.

The group also discussed plans for its annual Ladies' night to be held Monday, June 16 at 8 o'clock at Hotel Barlow. Two new members were taken into the club. Roland Robinson and J. W. Moreland.

Mt. Olive Cemetery Group Seeks Funds

All interested persons are asked to send contributions to help keep up Mt. Olive Cemetery, near Waterloo. Contributions should be sent to Mrs. Lloyd Dixon, Mrs. Doyle May or Mrs. Lynn Herring on Roaston, Rt. 3, all members of the finance committee which badly needs funds to continue regular cleaning of the cemetery.

Brother of Hope Man Succumbs

George M. Odell, aged 74, brother of John F. Odell of Hope, died Friday at his home in Tacoma, Wash. His survivors also included seven sons and a sister. Funeral services were held Monday in Tacoma, Wash.

Hope Boy Promoted in Korean Area

Bobby Joe Bishop, son of Mrs. Bessie Douglas, has been promoted to Airman second class with the 48th Motor Vehicle Squadron in Korea. A-2c Bishop has been in the war zone for seven months.

CLEAN-UP BOYS — Bayonet-wielding troops of the 38th Regiment, wearing gas masks, move out on the double to clean up another compound on Kojia Island, Korea. In some of the more troublesome compounds, American troops and communist war prisoners have dug trenches on opposite sides of the barbed-wire fences. The two sides appear to be getting ready for trouble when troops move in during the next few days to split up the prisoners into smaller groups. (NEA Telephoto)

Ike Maneuvers for Southern GOP Votes

New York, June 10 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower makes a face-to-face bid today for a Southern bloc of Republican convention votes.

Continuing his timetable conferences with GOP delegates, he meets groups from Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina every hour on the hour during the afternoon.

Yesterday he met generally pro-Eisenhower delegates from New Hampshire, Connecticut, and Massachusetts. He also had a session with a Delaware delegation of still doubtful leanings.

Out of these talks came Eisenhower's reported answer to the view that a "military mind" isn't suited for the White House. He was quoted as saying modern war makes its leaders all-around administrators, economists and diplomats.

Thus far, much of the South is claimed for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio. In 11 Southern states — outside the Southwest — Taft claims 97 convention votes to 21 for Eisenhower.

But in these same 11 states there are 55 uncommitted votes, a coveted plus in next month's Chicago convention.

U. S. Employee Indicted for Taking Fees

Washington, June 10 (AP) — A federal grand jury today indicted Charles E. Shaver on charges of accepting $3,100 in fees to push cases before government agencies while he was counsel for the Senate Small Business subcommittee.

Winding up an investigation which started last February, the grand jury also indicted three associates of Shaver. They were accused of aiding the allegedly unlawful deals.

Shaver was charged, on 11 counts in three indictments, with violating a federal law which prohibits any government employee from accepting compensation to represent outside parties before government agencies in any matter in which the government is interested.

Shaver faces a total of possible maximum penalty of 28 years in prison and $10,000 in fines, or both, if convicted. However, maximum sentences are rarely imposed.

Others indicted along with Shaver were Leonard H. Cooper of Miami, Jerome H. Weinkle, Miami attorney, and Raymond W. Lopatka, Chicago attorney.

Markets

New York, June 10 (UP) — Rising tendencies in the stock market encountered opposition at a moderately active opening today.

Prices eased with steel reversing their recent upturn. Net changes generally held to fractions.

Breakdown of steel negotiations was said to have been taken as an excuse for some profit-taking. That type of selling was seen as normal in view of the sharp gains made in the four-session advance which left the railroad average in New York ground for more than 21 years.

Prisoners Kill Own Men in Fight

Koja Island, Korea, June 10 (AP) — Red-starred caps, Communist armbands, capulets — paraphernalia of Compound 76 leaders — lay trampled in the dust of the smoking prison pen tonight.

They were all that remained of the authority the Communists once used to rule over the barbed wire enclosure's 6,400 prisoners of war.

For 2 1/2 hours this morning the Red-led prisoners battled American paratroopers to prevent their removal to compounds holding not more than 500 men each. They lost.

All prisoners were transferred. Medical teams then moved into the ruined area and carried out the dead and wounded.

Thirty-one prisoners were killed and 130 wounded. One American was killed and 14 wounded in subduing the Reds.

The smell of smoke and tear gas and death was like a choking blanket.

Among the wounded were some who feigned death until the fighting was over.

Surrendering during the heat of battle was dangerous.

One officer said he saw Reds kill five fellow prisoners when they tried to give up. Another officer said he saw three killed in this fashion.

Adults are always fretting about such dual topics as whether there will be another world war soon and who will be the next president.

Such prosaic cares never disturb the curly hair of my godchild, Nina. She is still a month away from her fifth birthday, and her world is such an exciting one I wish I could share it completely with her.

But I can't. No grownup can know the enchantment of a child's mind, because he loses the fresh joy of discovery. A child would like to know everything about everything; he is flooded all at once with all the knowledge of the universe. Time and boredom too often build a wall around their minds.

They love the will to learn. This puzzles children. They can't understand why grownups aren't as eager for information as they are. Nina looks like an exclamation point and she is a living question mark. Queries pour out of her from dawn to dusk, searching queries of a little girl trying to decipher the magic of life.

What does a young lady "going on five" want to know? Well, her mother scotch-taped a piece of paper on the kitchen wall and scribbled down the questions Nina asked.

"Why is it black when the fire goes out?"

"How do you get hungry?"

"Why does everybody in the whole world have to go to church and Sunday school?"

U. S. Splits Up Red Prisoners, 31 Left Dead

Koja Island, Korea, June 10 (AP) — U. S. paratroopers today checked the Communist prisoners of war rebellion in a 2 1/2 hour battle that made a shambles of notorious compound 76 and uncovered a prisoner plot to seize the island.

Thirty-one prisoners were killed and 130 wounded in the bloody fight. Autopsies showed that 12 prisoners were killed by their fellow Reds with crude spears.

One American was killed and 14 were wounded. The slain American had been speared to death and not killed by a concussion grenade as first reported. Only one American was seriously wounded.

The fight broke out when the POWs disobeyed orders to move peacefully into new, smaller enclosures of about 500 each.

U. S. Army Intelligence officers found a master plan in 76 to liberate all 60,000 Communist prisoners on Kojia. It called for the Reds to seize the island and its U. N. garrison and turn its weapons against any force from the main land. Further details were withheld.

Hornsby Fired as Manager of Browns

St. Louis, June 10 (AP) — Rogers Hornsby was fired today as manager of the St. Louis Browns by Owner Bill Veeck and Marty Marion was named to replace him.

Veeck, in making the announcement through the Browns' front office here, said he was relieving Hornsby for the good of the club.

Hornsby had a 3-year contract with the Browns but Veeck made a settlement with him, the terms of which was not announced.

Pickup Truck Stolen Here Is Recovered

A 1939 Ford pickup truck, stolen here over the weekend, was found abandoned on Highway 71, near Foulke, last night, Hope City Police reported today.

EXTENDED FORECAST
Extended forecast for the period June 10 to June 15.

Arkansas: Temperatures will average 2-3 degrees above normal. Normal minimum 66-72. Normal maximum 88-91. No important day to day changes. Precipitation moderate. Scattered thundershowers mainly Thursday and Friday.

"Do you love us (Nina and her sister) even when we are bad?"
"Do snakes come in houses?"
"Are there any lions and tigers in the whole world?"

"Why do people need lights?"
"If we ate something at someone else's house and you didn't want us to, how would you know?"
"Why don't mommies have to go to school?"

"What color are crows' eyes?"
"How do people make people?"
"How do people get in the whole world?"
"Why is there a moon in the morning?"

"How does your nose get dirty?"
"Why do we have two ears and not just one?"
"How do you get measles?"
"How do you forget?"

The mother gave me the slip of paper and suggested that, if I wanted to carry out my duty as a godfather, I might start in supplying Nina with the answers. "I put the paper in my pocket and decided to drop the project. What the child needs is five or six encyclopedias.

We went for a walk and Nina said: "Hal, who turns off the fireflies after I go to bed?"
Before I could stutter out an explanation, she wanted to know if clouds ever fell on people and hurt them.

"No, they. . . " I began.
"But they must fall down sometimes," she said positively.
We strolled on in silence. I had an uneasy feeling that Nina thought her godfather was pretty dumb, considering his size.

Anybody ought to know a cloud has to fall down sometimes. If just can't stay up there in the sky all the time, can it?

Segregation in Schools to Get Court Ruling

Washington, June 10 (AP) — The Supreme Court has set for itself the task of deciding anew whether segregation of Negro and white school children violates the federal constitution.

The issue was accepted yesterday for argument in the court's new term beginning next Oct. 2. But a decision probably will not come until after the presidential election in November.

The segregation hearings will be on appeals of parents of Negro children in Topeka, Kan., and Clarendon County, South Carolina.

The Supreme Court already has said segregation does not violate the constitution if equal facilities are provided for Negroes and whites.

Sharp Clashes in Fourth Day in Korea

Seoul, Korea, June 10 (AP) — Swelling forces of United Nations and Chinese Red troops clashed today in the fourth day of a sharp fight for an Allied held strategic hill position on the uneasy Korean Western Front.

A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said "activity has increased" all along the Western Front and that patrol actions are "longer and more intense."

Fighting and shelling increased on the Central and Eastern Fronts, the officer said.

The Eighth Army said at least two companies of U. N. troops about 40 men — skirmished with Reds today in the friction spot area near Chorwon.

U. N. troops killed 40 and wounded 100 of 250 attacking Reds who tried vainly for 3 1/2 hours Monday to win back the hill they lost Saturday. It was the third and largest assault on the hill by the Reds in 24 hours.

Lesser fights broke out Monday near the main hill battle but neither side won nor lost ground.

The Reds threw nearly 8,000 artillery and mortar shells on Allied positions around the Punchbowl on the Eastern Front Sunday night and Monday, the Eighth Army reported.

Clouds hampered operations of U. N. warplanes over North Korea Tuesday morning.

Pace Declares Korean Army Is Capable

Washington, June 10 (AP) — Secretary of the Army Frank Pace Jr. thoroughly disagreed with Maj. Gen. Daniel H. Huddelson that United Nations forces in Korea lack the manpower to face the Communist hordes and win the war.

"Any opinion to the effect that United Nations forces in Korea would be defeated if the Communists should attack," Pace declared "is contrary to everything that our highest military leaders in the field — the men who know most about the situation — have to report."

"For my part, I'll put my trust in the ability of the armed forces of our nation and those of our Allies to meet any challenge which the Communists may make," Pace said in a statement.

The secretary was commenting on an interview in Los Angeles by Huddelson, a reserve officer who is returning to civilian life after 21 months active duty, including service as commander of the 40th Division in Korea.

Huddelson, who said in his original interview, "I'm not sure why we're even fighting," told reporters later: "Secretary Pace is a fine gentleman, and as secretary undoubtedly has access to information not available to a poor old broken-down commander just back from Korea. I was speaking only from personal experience."

An oil company executive until his recall to duty, Huddelson said he expects to be out of the army within two or three days.

Sixth Army headquarters in Seoul said Huddelson was a "fine gentleman" and as secretary undoubtedly has access to information not available to a poor old broken-down commander just back from Korea. I was speaking only from personal experience."

Action Asked to End Strike Crippling Nation

Washington, June 10 (UP) — President Truman asked Congress today to enact legislation authorizing the government to seize the steel industry and run it until the contract dispute is settled.

Mr. Truman, in an extraordinary personal appearance before a joint session of Congress, said a "properly drafted" seizure law can assure steel production, treat both parties "fairly" and encourage collective bargaining.

"I hope the Congress will act quickly," Mr. Truman said. "The issue of peace or war hangs in the balance, and steel is a vital element in the outcome."

"The issue is squarely up to Congress," the President said. "I hope the Congress will meet it by enacting fair and effective legislation."

Mr. Truman said use of the Taft-Hartley law injunction would be "grossly unfair" to the 650,000 striking CIO United Steelworkers because they had postponed their walkout many times before finally striking June 2.

If, however, Congress wants to obtain an injunction against the strike, the President said, it should direct the President to seek such an order without waiting for the appointment and report of fact finding board as required by the Taft-Hartley act.

The Taft-Hartley approach, Mr. Truman said, would be "unwise, unfair, and quite possibly ineffective."

Mr. Truman went before the joint session of Congress 10 hours after the 650,000 steelworkers collapsed at the White House last night.

But while the nine-day-old strike of the 650,000 steelworkers went on, preparations were rushed to resume production at steel plants turning out the goods for the defense effort.

Acting Defense Mobilizer John R. Steelman called government officials to a meeting to decide which plants should reopen to provide the critical needs of the Korean War.

More Movie Houses Than Ever Before

By WAYNE OLIVER
For Sam Dawson

New York, June 9 (AP) — Despite television, there are more motion picture theaters in operation now than a year ago due to a continuing boom in drive-ins.

The Council of Motion Picture Organizations says 23,189 film theaters were in operation at the start of this year—a net gain of 79 over a year earlier. It's the highest total since the pre-depression peak of 23,144 in 1929.

But, citing statistics from the Department of Commerce and from Film Daily's yearbook due out later this week, COMPO discloses this significant fact: There was a gain of 828 drive-ins and a decline of 749 four-walled theaters during this year.

A spokesman emphasized two points, however. One, due to defense restrictions on materials it has been much easier to build drive-ins than convention theaters. Two, most of the new 4-walled theaters have larger seating capacities than those they have been closing. He said a survey in the St. Louis area, for instance, showed 42 houses closed and 16 new ones opened in a 5-year period, but the new ones had more total seats than those that closed.

Drive-ins, meanwhile, have mushroomed from insignificant numbers five or six years ago to a total, according to Film Daily, of 4,151 at the start of this year—of 18 per cent of all film theaters. In the first quarter of this year, 66 new drive-ins were opened and 10 four-walled theaters.

Most industry officials are frank in admitting that television has had a lot to do with many of the theater closings and a decline in movie attendance from 80 to 90 million a week at the 1946-47 peak to around 55 million a week now.

Leonard Goldenson, president of United Paramount Theaters, says surveys definitely show attendance is down more in TV areas than in those without TV.

"Nevertheless," he adds, "continuing surveys show that in roads of television upon the box office moderate after the novelty and installment period of set ownership have passed."

Goldenson also makes a point many others in the industry emphasize: During World War II and immediately afterward when Americans had high incomes and little to spend on the movies, attendance at abnormal levels that hardly could have been expected to last. And, he says, those conditions also "brought into operation hundreds of motion picture theaters which under any other conditions could not have operated."

Starts Wed. at the Saenger

MICHELE MORGAN is attended by slave women in this scene from the United Artists release "FABIOLA," a story of ancient Rome.

'Fabiola' Is a Story of Ancient Rome

The central characters of "Fabiola" are Fabius, a Roman Senator, and his beautiful daughter Fabiola, and Rhual, a dashing gladiator from Gaul. Falsely implicated in the murder of Fabius, Rhual finds a chance to escape death if he will renounce all his ideals. His decision brings the story to a driving and remarkable climax.

With such famed Continental stars in the big cast as Henri Vidal and Michel Simon, "Fabiola" was brought to the screen as one of the most ambitious productions on record. Thousands of bit players and extras appear in the faithfully reproduced scenes of Roman pomp and display, and in the amphitheatre of the Coliseum where lions were kept ready for unleashing.

Jules Levey is presenting this magnificent production adapted by Marc Connelly, famed author of "Green Pastures," and Fred Pressburger. The film is based on the famous 19th Century novel of the same title, which has been translated in many languages and read all over the world.

Girls State Names Officials

Little Rock, June 10 (AP) — Some 300 girls in a week-long encampment at Camp Robinson, elected the first officers of Girls State yesterday and in their 2-party system, Federalists and Nationalists came out almost even.

However, the majority of speakers at the encampment are Democrats. Secretary of State C. H. Hall told the girls yesterday never to allow politics to influence their "appointments." He advised them to be businesslike and "do a good job and earn your money."

Results of the mayoralty elections of the Girls State cities included:

Revenue Collector Acquitted

San Francisco, June 10 (AP) — James G. Smyth, third of the scandal-ridden Internal Revenue Bureau's ousted collectors to be tried, was acquitted of backdating his own 1945 income tax returns to defraud the government.

Two other ousted collectors—Dennis W. Delaney of Boston and James P. Finnegan of St. Louis—were convicted earlier this year.

A Federal Court jury of eight women and four men last night freed Smyth after deliberating seven hours. They acquitted him of three charges after he and others testified his returns were duplicates, filed to replace lost originals.

The nattily dressed deposed collector for Northern California commented:

However, two other indictments remain against Smyth. One, returned in December, was called "vague" by Federal Judge Alger Fee. A new indictment, to replace that one, was the basis for the trial at which Smyth was acquitted.

However, the "vague" indictment has not formally been dismissed.

Another indictment was returned just before the 10-day trial started. Judge Fee refused to consider it but it still must be disposed of.

Smyth was dismissed by President Truman Nov. 28 on charges of "failing to manage his office properly" after a Federal grand jury was called to investigate reported scandals in his department.

He then was charged with backdating returns for himself and his wife in an effort to evade $402 in penalties and interest.

The accusations of an improperly managed office led to indictments against chief deputy, Paul V. Doyle, awaits trial on a charge of backdating returns for three estates.

Pentagon May Have to Act on MacArthur

Washington, June 10 (AP) — The booming of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for keynote speaker at the Republican National Convention may compel nervous Pentagon lawyers to lay out political ground rules for the former Pacific commander.

The Army's legal experts are known to have been tip-toeing for some time around the question of whether MacArthur's activities have strayed beyond the bounds of military regulations that forbid officers on active duty to engage in political campaigning.

Up to now, all they worried about were MacArthur's speeches, statements and support of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination. But unless he resigned from the Army ahead of time, acceptance by MacArthur of any bid to keynote the GOP convention would lead to even more fundamental biding. For the regulations specifically ban "activity at political conventions" and "the making of political speeches."

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower freed himself for such activity by applying for retirement and getting it. Although it wasn't necessary, he also gave up his pay and allowances of $19,541 a year. MacArthur, by applying for retirement too, could make himself as free as Eisenhower to mix in politics. At present he is a salaried officer on active duty but without any command.

Even in retirement, some military lawyers say, it would be necessary for both Eisenhower and MacArthur to pull their punches at the Democrats. The uniform code of military justice, applying to active and retired officers, says in Article 88 that an officer who uses "contemptuous words" against the President, vice-president, cabinet members of Congress, governors or state or territorial legislatures "shall be punished as a court-martial may direct."

Eisenhower has said he does not intend to deal in personalities. If he sticks to that he evidently would not need to worry about Article 88, but the legal authorities think it might be difficult for MacArthur to avoid clashing with that article in a keynote address that is supposed to wane away at the Democrats and glorify the Republicans.

Resignation from the Army would set either five-star general out from under the military code and permit political campaigning with no holds barred. Eisenhower has announced his intention to resign if he gets the Republican nomination. Some authorities believe it might be necessary for MacArthur to hand in his resignation in order to make the kind of speech that is expected of a convention keynoter.

Reds Have Had Germ Weapons for 15 Years

Washington, June 9 (AP)—The Communists have had germ weapons for at least 15 years, according to their own claims, but so far have not dared use them, even in the Korean aggression.

A close and constant watch is maintained by United States biological warfare plant in North Korea, reported unconfirmed. He said this was what happened:

United Nations forces pushed to North Korea in the offensive late 1950 a report was received from a laboratory that a laboratory in the Pyongyang area.

Alert to a possible attempt by the state forces to make a biological attack on the American forces, the American forces were alerted to the possibility of a biological attack.

Why haven't the Communists resorted to microbe warfare? The answer, top American military men say, is that the United States is prepared to strike back with the same weapon in overwhelming power.

Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett said this up recently. In a conference he denounced Communist charges that the United States had used both BW and toxic weapons in Korea as "absolutely ridiculous and false."

He added that the Communist technique usually has been to charge someone else in advance with a crime the Communists propose to commit.

Lovett left no doubt that the United States was ready to meet any kind of germ warfare long ago. American officials cite speeches by Soviet officials.

Recently there is one made on Feb. 10, 1948, by Marshal Voroshilov, at that time Commander of Defense.

Voroshilov said if toxic or biological weapons were used against the USSR "we are prepared and fully prepared to use them also and to use them against aggressors on their own soil."

American officials are wary of what is known of Soviet preparations for BW because it is a dangerous intelligence source and lives of agents.

But there have been some hints from other sources. The newspaper Die Tat of Zurich, Switzerland, carried an article last March on the Communist charge of biological warfare in Korea. Die Tat said:

"Three years ago in escaping to the United States with all documents at Budapest (near Baku) the Soviet and Czech, centers of biological research have been established under the leadership of Professor Wernin."

The United States has refrained from ratifying an agreement in which Russia is involved which would pledge non-use of toxic gas and bacteriological weapons.

Benjamin V. Cohen, U. S. delegate in an address last month before the United Nations Disarmament Commission on Bacteriological Warfare, told why.

It would be sheer lunacy for the free world to start darning the holes for more paper promissories without safeguards," he said.

Those who make false promises concerning the use of bacteriological warfare can just as easily make false promises not to use bacteriological warfare."

Repentant Thieves Return Church Crown

New York, June 10 (UPI)—Detectives examined today an envelope that repentant thieves had to return two crowns valued at $100,000 which they had torn from the altar of a Catholic shrine in Brooklyn.

The crowns arrived at the Regina Pacis (Queen of Peace) Catholic shrine at 9:55 a. m. yesterday in the unregistered, uninsured envelope only five minutes before mass.

Magister Angelo R. Cloutier, pastor of the shrine, was so overjoyed at seeing the crowns, which were stolen one day ago, that he cried out that their return was "the greatest miracle I have ever seen."

He hurried to tell the news to his congregation, for it was the parishioners who had contributed their diamonds and other precious gems so that the crowns might be fashioned.

"God has heard your prayers," Cloutier said. "Last Sunday there were tears. Now there is joy. Your prayers have been heard."

Mrs. Rosina Morales, who had been kneeling in a front pew, faintly, for the first time in Cloutier's memory, he heard applause in a Roman Catholic church.

The parishioners had prayed and said their rosaries since Cloutier had told them tearfully that thieves had pried loose the crowns from a mural of the virgin mother holding the infant Jesus.

He had called the theft a "dreadful, sacrilegious action committed by sacrilegious hands." But later begged the thieves to repent and return the crowns.

Madame William Burke delivered the envelope to the shrine. Cloutier's fingers trembled as he opened the envelope. He had been told only two hours previously by another priest that detectives believed the crowns would be returned.

On the inside the two crowns were fastened to two strips of corrugated paper with Scotch tape. The crowns were dented and about $2,000 worth of small diamonds were missing.

But Cloutier said members of the congregation already had donated enough diamonds to restore the crowns, which will be locked in a safe until the grillwork erected to protect them is reinforced.

Detectives took the envelope, a commercial container used for the mailing of photographs, to police laboratories for examination.

The return address, printed in neat lower case letters, was "police headquarters," but the street number was that of an annex used by narcotics and burglar squads, indicating that the thieves were small-time criminals who did not know the correct location.

Gang Rounded Up, Officer Arrests Son

Tampa, Fla., June 9 (UPI)—Police officials today reserved top praise in the capture of eight alleged members of a $100,000 burglary gang that included two patrolmen, for the detective who dutifully arrested his own son.

"It is a very sad duty that a father has to perform in taking his own son in custody," Chief Malcolm Beasley said of the unhappiest man on his force today—Sgt. Joe Bowers Jr.

After Sheriff Hugh Culbreath Sunday ordered the latest four arrests, Joe Bowers Jr., 26, was booked along with A. M. Yelvington and Carl B. Overstreet, Jr., both police patrolmen, and Overstreet's wife.

With a newlywed couple and a man and woman arrested Friday, these four are accused of nothing but $75,000 worth of merchandise and almost $25,000 in cash in a series of gang robberies during the past year.

Culbreath said he called Bowers a chubby, good-natured detective, and "told him to bring his son in, and he did."

"It was a hard thing to do," Chief Beasley commented, "but I am sure he did it with a sense of duty."

Bowers was visibly shocked by the charges against his son, who worked with the city water department, but Beasley said the arrests of Yelvington and Overstreet formed another surprising twist.

He said both are clean-cut looking men. Overstreet, a member of the force for six years and Yelvington, who also draws a $100 monthly pension as a disabled war veteran, four years.

Yelvington told me he was playing both sides of the law for thrills rather than for money," Beasley said. With his pension his income is nearly $400 a month, Beasley pointed out.

Culbreath said the patrolmen admitted holding up the owner of the state theater here last June 18. Blackjacking him and robbing him of $1,119, but after that acted as lookouts for the others.

The suspects arrested Friday are Mr. and Mrs. John Finn, married only four days at the time, and Loy R. Doyle and Mrs. Dohane, residents of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Culbreath said his office and police investigators have recovered a sizeable quantity of electrical appliances, jewelry, TV sets, safes and other valuables looted from buildings.

GOP Delegate Trouble May Boil Over

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 10 (AP)—The acrid bitterness between the Taft and Eisenhower camps may boil over in their struggle to seal rival delegates at the Republican National Convention next month.

The contest now is focused on disputed delegates in Texas, Georgia, Louisiana, and Mississippi. Taft has offered to compromise on some disputed Southern delegates, although he hasn't said how. The Eisenhower people say no.

If the fight becomes too fierce, it may split the Republicans into such hostile camps that it will cost the party the election. It could happen, and did happen before in the Taft family.

The senator's father, President William Howard Taft, went through this experience 40 years ago in a rivalry with ex-President Theodore Roosevelt at the Republican National Convention in Chicago where this one will be held, too.

That struggle did more than just break the party into factions. It split the party. Roosevelt ran against Taft on an opposition ticket. The divided Republican vote let Democrat Woodrow Wilson win the election easily.

No one this year is suggesting an exact duplicate of 1912, with the loser in the Taft-Eisenhower fight creating a rival party to run anyway. Eisenhower said last week he'll support the candidate chosen by the convention.

When he was elected in 1904 Theodore Roosevelt said he wouldn't seek or accept another nomination. But he had no intention of losing his political grip altogether when the 1908 elections came around.

He handpicked Taft, his friend and associate, as his successor. And the Republican convention accepted Roosevelt's choice. Taft was elected. But not all of Roosevelt's followers liked Taft's for an administration.

They told Roosevelt so when he came back from an African hunting trip before the 1912 elections. They persuaded him to try for the Republican nomination and another White House term. He did.

He drummed up convention delegates in the 13 states which had presidential preference primaries. He swamped Taft. But most states had no primaries and there the Republican politicians had a word to say for Taft.

Historian Harold U. Faulkner, in his "American Politics and Social History," gives a picture of what followed:

"Administration Taft delegates, handpicked from the South, gave Taft a larger nucleus to start with. And the national committee and the committee on credentials saw to it that the disputes were decided in favor of the regular Republican machine."

"When Roosevelt saw that the convention was in the hands of his opponents, he issued a scorching blast and urged his followers to participate no longer in the voting."

Roosevelt's followers then nominated him as presidential candidate of their new progressive party. As he arrived for that party's convention, Roosevelt said he felt as good as a "bull moose," which became the party's symbol.

The result: The Republican party smashed wide open, with Roosevelt getting 48 electoral votes to only eight for Taft. Wilson won the Democratic ticket with 433 electoral votes.

The national committee and the credentials committee, just as 40 years ago, will be the key groups deciding what Taft or Eisenhower delegates this year can be seated and take part in the nominations.

And, as in 1912, the big fight will be over delegates from the South where the Eisenhower people claim the Taftites squeezed them out.
